Things we need to know

The internet is a network that connects millions of computers all around the world. It lets people share information, photographs and videos and to play games together.

We can take photos and share them with other people. We should always ask before we take someone else's photo. This is called getting their permission.

Going online can be lots of fun but there are some parts of the internet that are not meant for children.

If we see or watch something on the internet that makes us feel upset or worried, we should always tell an adult. They won't be cross with us because they care about our safety.

Can you …?

- Ask permission before you go online
- Talk about things you can do on the internet
- Ask for someone's consent before you take a photo of them and before you share it with anyone
- Say 'no' if you don't want to give your consent
- Tell an adult if something you see or hear on the internet makes you feel worried or upset
